RICHARD BURTON is in Mokena visiting his parents. That is one way of putting it. Another is to say that Buddy Rogers Lail is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Lail, Brightwood, and is marking time until a casting office is set up at Chicago for summer stock.

Richard Burton is the professional name chosen by Buddy. He has studied at the Goodman theater and came to Mokena from Kansas City where he appeared with a Goodman group in a production with a hillbilly background.

"We thought we had one that would go but it didn't," Buddy said, taking solace from the fact that plays opening on Broadway with big talent in the cast suffer the same fate as did the hill drama, and in less time too.

Buddy was graduated from Lincoln-Way in 1957, having entered that institution as a freshman. He served in the U. S. army two years and was discharged last June.

Right now he has his sights set on summer stock, figuring that in show business there is no greater teacher than experience.

Will Elect 3 To Mokena Grade School Board

Three persons will be elected to the Mokena school board Dist. #159 on April 8.

Those serving on the board whose three year terms expire this spring are: Durward Fant, Norval Robinson and James Stewart. It is said that all are planning to run for re-election.

Any eligible resident who is interested in running may obtain a nominating petition at the home of the secretary Lyman F. Teague, 128 Mokena street, Mokena. Filing dates are from Feb. 22 to March 18.

Win's Place On Dean's List

A New Lenox youth is on the dean's list at Lewis college for the fall semester, according to an announcement this week by Brother Louis De LaSalle, dean of the college.

Patrick Delaney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Delaney, Route 1, maintained an average of 3.50 for the semester. This is necessary to be named to the list. Patrick is a sophomore.

Seeks Builder For New Postoffice At Frankfort

The postoffice department is ready to take bids for the new postoffice at Frankfort.

Under the policy that has been in effect for some years now the postoffice department has quit building postoffices in the smaller communities. It selects a site, acquires an option on it and then asks someone to put up a building according to government specifications. The option is transferred to the builder who acquires the site and then when the building is finished, leases it to the post-office department.

When the postoffice is talking about bids on such a project it is referring to the terms of the lease. The person who proposes the best terms is the low bidder and gets the job.

Postmaster Leroy J. Mager, of Frankfort, points out that the new postoffice "will provide expanded service for our community." The specifications call for a structure containing 2,279 square feet of floor space with an outside loading platform and space for parking and maneuvering trucks and cars. It will be approximately the same size and of the same appearance as the new postoffice at Mokena. The building will be of block, brick and stone construction.

The department holds an option on a 72 by 132 foot lot at the southwest corner of Nebraska and Oak streets which it will turn over to the builder for purchase.

Mager advised that bids should be submitted to Roger T. Stevens, real estate officer, whose address is Room 1153, Main Postoffice Bldg., Chicago, 100, Ill. He will give one information on bidding forms, building specifications, lease provision and other details.

Mokena Plans To Start Water Expansion Program In March

Mokena's water main extension will get under way as soon as weather permits, probably within a month, according to Mayor James Marti. The job totaling 4,700 feet of six inch main, will be handled by Blaine Saxton, Mokena.

Marti said the board decided to tap the mains with a tapping machine rather than the cut-in-T method because on a review of the figures by Village Engineer Ralph Yunker the difference of $210 would not justify the inconveniences of the slower second method. The mayor pointed out that the cut-T would allow the contractor to tap the present main under pressure which would eliminate the necessity of turning off water for an undetermined period. Marti also stated that the new line would allow for nine new fire hydrants which will aid greatly the Mokena's Community Fire Department's efforts in trying to retain the present fire insurance rate.

Saxton submitted the low bid of $19,873 and will be awarded the contract when he furnishes the board with a performance bond. The contractor submitted an alternate bid of $19,663 which would cover the cost under the cut-in-T method.

Yunker, who also represents the Mulford Engineer Co., Chicago Heights, said the improvement will cover about 10 blocks. The eastern limit will be Schoolhouse road; the western point reached will be Union ave. on Bryant Street.

Yunker said the project could be started as soon as the frost was out of the ground, which he hoped would be by mid-March. He added that if the contractor encountered no out of the ordinary difficulties and the weather permitted the work could be completed in less than a month.

Plans call for laying the mains in the parkways, Yunker said, and cutting of the streets will be avoided as much as possible. If water mains are laid in the same ditch as is a sewer, the engineer explained, the water main must be at least 18 inches above the sewer. If the lines are laid side by side they must be at least 10 feet apart.

Area Churches

Hold Special

Lenten Rites

The Lenten period began yesterday, Ash Wednesday, with special services in most of the area churches.

Services marking the penitential season will be conducted thruout the period, culminating with those that come during Holy Week.

Lent lasts 40 days, ending Saturday, April 1. It is a season in which Christians prepare themselves for the miracle of Easter.

Burglar Gets

$20 From Home

Mrs. Barbara Stoll of Route 1, New Lenox, told sheriff's police Tuesday night that her home was entered by cutting a screen on the rear door.

The window was then smashed. Intruders ransacked the kitchen and took a $20 bill from a box. Mrs. Stoll said this is the second time this has occurred.

Contest On For Collector In Frankfort Township

There will be but one contest in the coming town election in Frankfort township--for the office of collector.

The office is now held by Burnett Schram, who operates the barbershop at Frankfort. He will be opposed in the election April 4 by Robert Dean, who operates the Frankfort pharmacy.

The town collector, as the name implies, collects taxes in the township each spring, terminating the service June 1, at which time the county treasurer takes over the duty. Most people find it more convenient to pay their tax bills locally than to make a trip to Joliet for the purpose. Collectors in Will county receive a salary, that varies according to the township and do not get a certain fixed percentage of the collections as some people believe.

The highway commissioner was elected two years ago and does not come up at this election. The offices to be filled, besides that of collector, are supervisor, town clerk, assessor and three auditors.

The auditors are new and are being elected to take the place formerly occupied on the town board by justices of the peace when they were town officials. JP's are now county officials. The supervisor, town clerk, and now the three auditors, make up the town board which can fill vacancies in town offices and they also audit the town accounts.

Running for auditors are:

Adam Heusner, of Frankfort; August Werner, of Mokena, a JP whose term expires this spring and Roy Koerner, also of Mokena.

Other candidates in the April 4 election are incumbents:

George Tate, of Frankfort, who will be re-elected supervisor; Harold Cooper, Mokena town clerk; and Harold Smith, of Frankfort, assessor.

Tate was named supervisor by the town board last August to succeed William Kampe, veteran supervisor, who died suddenly of a heart condition.

JOAN SORENSEN AND TOM MARCOUX

Mokena Youngsters Win Leads In "Kiss And Tell"

Joan Sorensen and Tom Marcoux, both of Mokena, have won the coveted leads in the forthcoming production of the Lincolnway Community Players, "Kiss and Tell, a hilarious comedy to be staged in the L-W auditorium March 23, 24, and 25.

Joan, a senior at Lincoln-Way high, is to play the part of Corliss Archer, Tom, a junior at L-W, is cast as Dexter Franklin, the boy next door. Corliss, her off and on or stand-by boy friend, and Dexter are kept busy trying to help the love birds, Mildred Pringle (Carol Sherwood) and Lenny Archer (Randy Smith) with their problems.

Other assigned parts as a result of recent tryouts are Mrs. Henry Clark, cast as Mrs. Archer, Gordon Richards, as Mr. Archer; Lee Robinson and Barbara Putnam, as Mr. and Mrs. Franklin.

As far as second grade pupils at Mokena are concerned the star of the cast is Mrs. Gordon Richards, who has the part of the faithful maid of the Archer family. In the every day world Mrs. Richards teaches the second grade; she also teaches Russian to pupils who are interested. Mrs. Richards gained her knowledge of the language because her father had served as a minister in Russia for many years.

Mrs. Kenneth Sherwood, of Mokena, director of the play, was pleased with the fact that so many persons tried out for parts and the offers to aid the production in other capacities.

ARRESTED

A 37-year old man who is alleged to have deserted from the army in March of last year was arrested while working on a farm in Mokena. Taken into custody by the Will county sheriff's office was Gerald Schroder.

Mokena Firemen Hope To Halt Insurance Rate Hike

Mokena property owners are threatened with a fire insurance rate increase if fire department equipment is not improved. In an effort to forestall an insurance rate change the Mokena Community Volunteer Fire department has raised their donation figure from $3 to $5 for their annual pinochle party and dance. Their target figure from this source is $6,000. If this figure is reached the additional equipment can be obtained and the present insurance rate retained.

At present Mokena fire insurance is in class seven and eight with some of the fringe area in class ten, but due to the increase in population and the type and amount of the department's present equipment, the Illinois Inspection Bureau has threatened to change the classifications which in turn would increase the fire insurance rate to approximately $15 for every $10,000 in valuation. The bureau is the organization which set the Illinois fire insurance rates by class and also designates the class in which cities and villages are set.

The Mokena fire department receives no tax money, but is solely supported by donations. Its members are local men who receive no salary or compensation. Donations received are used entirely for equipment and supplies.

This year's campaign: "We need your help now, in case you need our help in the future."

Frankfort C. Of C. Seeks Members

The Frankfort Chamber of Commerce will conduct a membership drive, it was decided at the monthly dinner meeting of the group held Wednesday night at Ritt's restaurant.

Three members were named to a committee to collect the 1961 chamber dues. They are Robert Dean, James Walker and Glenn Schroeder.

Anyone interested in the progress of the community is eligible to join the chamber of commerce which meets at 6:30 p.m. the second Wednesday of the month at Ritt's. Dues are $15 a year and it includes the meals.

A discussion was held on the SPC's project of constructing a pavilion in the Frankfort park. Members of the chamber pledged their moral support to the project.

COUNTY GOAL $90,000 - Mrs. John Francis, left, and Mrs. Fred W. Penn, both of New Lenox, check Red Cross data as they prepare to organize the 1961 campaign for funds and members in this area. The two civic leaders will head volunteer workers in the March campaign to be conducted in New Lenox, Frankfort, Green Garden, Homer and Wilton townships. Servicemen and veterans and their families benefit chiefly from Red Cross services. The $90,000 fund sought in the county also finances services to the community and helps the national organization's disaster fund.

Mary Lou Goes Shopping

Gee, I'm lucky I received two letters in the mail this week. One from a sweet little high school girl who sent a rather yummy sounding lenten recipe which I'll pass on to you. This gal's name, by the way, is also Mary Lou. She asks a question that has nothing to do with shopping or food and about something I know nothing about. But, I'd like to live recklessly, so, I'm going to risk an answer. Question: A few nights ago I told my mother that I was going to a girl friend's to work on a school project, but I went to a dance with a boy friend instead. I had a lot of fun, but now I feel funny about deceiving my mother. Do you think I should tell her? Would I feel better? Answer: I don't know, but I'll tell you one thing, you shouldn't deceive your mother because you'll never have a better friend. . . I think it's best to let it go this time. There is not much danger of you doing it again if it bothers you this much.

The other letter was from a woman who thinks I was unfair to the stock boys in food markets. She writes: My son is a stock boy and I'm sure he tends to business while working. Answer: I'm sorry, I guess I was mistaken. But, I still think it would be more fun to stock the shelves like the other fellows do.

Here is the recipe Mary Lou learned at Home Ec.

Scalloped Fresh Oysters: 5 tablespoons butter, 4 cups soft bread crumbs, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, pepper, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 pint of oysters. Melt the butter, add crumbs and seasoning and mix well. Drain oysters and arrange in alternate layers with buttered crumbs in a greased baking dish. Bake 20 minutes in a hot oven.

Could This Be Double Talk

The Industrial News Review poses a question that concerns a large segment of the American public—when is insurance not insurance. And the answer it gives is "the federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance system."

The Review points out that according to legal interpretation, social security benefits are no more than "gifts" handed out to social security recipients at the pleasure of the federal government and to back up this assertion offers the following testimony of the Social Security Administrator before the U. S. Supreme Court.

"The OASI program is in no sense a federally-administered insurance program under which each worker pays premiums over the years and acquires at retirement an indefeasible right to receive...a fixed monthly benefit... The contributions exacted under the... program are a tax... Consistent with the non-contractual nature of OASI benefits is the ruling of the Internal Revenue Service that monthly benefit payments are voluntary payments to the recipient by the government... a belief has developed... that... benefits are paid as the result of a contractual obligation on the part of the United States government... This belief has been fostered to a considerable extent by publications and other statements of responsible officials of the Social Security Administration."

The Social Security Administration, for public consumption, says: "Beginning January 1, 1960, 50¢ more social security tax on every $100 you earn (and 50¢ more from you employer)... provides: Monthly payments for you and your family at retirement, or when you are between age 50 and 65 and severely disabled... for more information on your RIGHTS and BENEFITS see your social security office."

As one actuarial authority observes: "When statements as self-contradictory as these are issued by or collaborated in by the same government agency, it is certainly time for the public to take an interest in what is going on". This is doubly true when proposals are impending to extend social security to include "free" medical care.

Night school is a wonderful thing, is the carefully considered opinion of W. Jefferson Throttlebottom, self acclaimed authority on many and diverse subjects ranging from butterflies and bourbon to that Greek brandy that begins with an X and assorted zanies.

Your correspondent conceded one may pick up considerable information in a saloon but contended he had never been in one that could be confused with an educational institution.

Mr. Throttlebottom with considerable dignity retorted that he was not speaking of saloons. He had been, he said, to an honest - to - goodness night school, complete with live teachers, x and a wide assortment of courses.

Your correspondent apologized but expressed some curiosity as to what impulse carried Jeff to halls of learning.

"Well," he began, "I went primarily to see if a metal working course was open where I could make a cellaret to house my home supply of refreshments. Keeping them in a cupboard has caused problems. Mice have invaded the cupboard. I find that whether in grain or liquid form mice have a predilection for rye or corn."

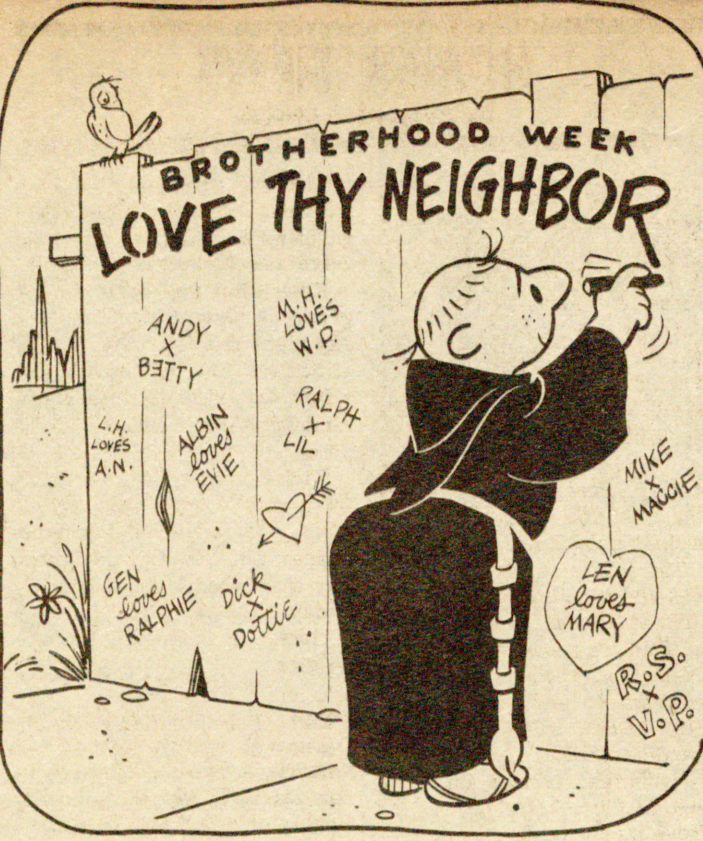

"This has caused trouble in the neighborhood. A few draws of rye or bourbon make some of these mice quite belligerent, so much in fact that some of my neighbors who own cats have complained of the rough treatment given them by these mice. Noticed myself that some of them are getting pretty bold. They used to run and whisk out of sight when they saw me coming. The other night when I came in two mice were just finishing off a drink. Instead of running they gave me a Bronx cheer and then sauntered off. "They were weaving a little but were really handling themselves very well. Assuredly, they weren't blind mice."

"Well, as I was saying," Jeff went on, "I went down to this school to see about this metal business but found a fee was involved and no credit cards I have covered it."

"As long as I was there I thought I might as well look around. Hearing music with a juke box flavor down one of the corridors I investigated. I have heard that some of the schools allow credits for bowling so I thought maybe this music was coming from a room where they had set up a couple of pool and billiard tables."

"I don't mean to be boastful but there are some who acclaim my skill with a cue and I thought if there was a class in pool or billiards I might be able to pick up enough change to meet the fee in the metal shop."

"It was a false alarm, however. The music, I discovered came from a room where a class in dancing was in progress. There must have been 50 people there, shuffling around in a big circle.

"There was a woman out in the center, trailing what I thought at first was a long, blacksnake whip but a closer look revealed it as a cord attached to a microphone into which she was making like a drill sergeant."

"Left, left, right, left, left, close right, close left, left, left, he had a good home but he left, left, . . . you over there . . . well, I wasn't speaking to you really. . . the one in front of you but it will apply. . . when I say close left I mean close left not right. . . yes, that's your right foot so the other one is your left foot, please try to remember because it can make a lot of difference especially when putting on your shoes."

"I think it was about then that she would have changed the mike cord for a whip and I think the class would have displayed more energy too. "When I left she was talking about teaching them the steps employed in making a turn, which by the way is a very important maneuver because otherwise a couple could run out of floor unless there was a door handy thru which they could dance."

"There were other rooms where classes were at work on languages, including English, mathematics, cooking, dressmaking, woodworking, and many other subjects, including bridge.

"I liked the bridge as I enjoy watching the way people play their cards but when I shook my head in warning when one of the players was about to play an ace the instructor came over and when he found I had not paid an entry fee he invited me to leave. It is the first time I was ever in a place where a kibitzer had to pay."

"I am now thinking of starting an evening school of my own," Jeff said, "with special emphasis on mathematics involving odds. Even professors that are whizzes at formulas and equations that one encounters in nuclear physics, are pretty dumb at figuring odds."

"To demonstrate the problems clearly I would need a few simple pieces of equipment, such as a crap table, a black jack table, a poker table, some decks of cards and a roulette wheel."

"But what has me stumped," he sighed, "is whether I would need a teacher's certificate or one of Uncle Sam's gambling stamps. Maybe to be safe one should have both."

WILLIAM F. WHITESIDE
COOK COUNTY ASSOC. FARM
ADVISER TINLEY PARK -
KE 2-4374

Four Cook County dairymen attended a district Dairy Day in Dwight last week. They are Walter Lauffer and Milton Bettenhausen, Tinley Park; Melvin Hoger and Herbert Kohl, Matteson. The program dealt with feeding problems in dairy cattle, sire testing, and proper milking machine techniques.

Dairymen were cautioned to start early on a program for control of face flies since this pest multiplies rapidly. Cows bothered by these flies will not produce as well, hence treatment is necessary to maintain production. The same control methods as used last year are recommended again; namely, the use of a 0.2% DDVP in syrup. This bait is applied to the face of the animal with a brush.

Artificial drying of crops is the topic of high interest among farmers these days. Bulk drying of onion sets is being done for the first time this year on the farm of C. R. Rietveld and his brother Glenn. The Rietvelds indicate they are pleased with the results; however, there are still a number of problems to be ironed out.

Dr. Roland W. Bartlett, Prof. of Agricultural Economics, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, recommends the following lines of action to keep American agriculture free, prosperous, and competitive: "Lower support prices on cotton, wheat and other farm surpluses that will clear the market during normal periods. Pay adjustment compensation on a temporary basis, and expand the soil bank. "Keep American business competitive by avoiding marketing quotas that would restrict farm and encourage labor-management cooperation to increase productivity, efficiency and job security. "Extend federal orders to stabilize markets for other perishable farm commodities besides milk. "Reduce hauling costs on farm products and supplies by expanding use of the piggyback system and integrating truck-rail-water rates. "Expand markets for livestock and livestock products. Two possible ways would be to sell meat on a carcass basis and sell milk concentrates as substitutes for fresh whole milk."

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

Standard & Poor investment service points out that the best closing levels of the Standard & Poor market index for industrials, attained new highs.

They also note that in the past, new highs of this type of average, have been attained only after the business cycle has shown evidences of rising action. In their opinion this shows considerable investor confidence in the economy and corporate profits. It also, in their opinion, shows a situation in which it seems most investors prefer holding or buying rather than selling.

Many brokers believe that the Standard & Poor daily average price of 500 (425 are industrial) stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, is a better index than the popular Dow Jones industrial average which is composed of only 30 industrial stocks which were chosen years ago as representative of the market. However, news services have become accustomed to using the Dow Jones averages and are slow to change.

The news indicates that much of the program proposed during the campaign, will be sent to congress for enactment.

There is a frank admission that such a program may create some budgetary imbalance.

According to Standard & Poor altho President Kennedy has stated he intends to defend the position of the dollar, creeping increases in cost of living will continue.

An interesting study of an old business-cosmetics has come to hand. There has been little published on analysis of the cosmetic business and conservative investors have not been inclined toward the industry altho its growth has been above average.

According to the report, the cosmetic industry is as old as Cleopatra, but did not assume its modern form until after World War I. The war, automobiles, and prohibition were factors in over coming the strict Victorian attitudes against use of cosmetics. Growing freedom of women socially and economically, encouraged better grooming and adornment.

Cosmetics have become so important to women that they are now inseparable parts of the female personality. Women will skimp on other living expenses before discarding lip stick, nail polish and basic make-up. Cosmetics seem to give a feeling of personal well-being and have been resistant to recessions and especially subject to advertising.

Steady, but slow progress has been made in sales of men's toiletries.

It is pointed out that girls now start using cosmetics at an early age and become quite profitable customers in the 30-40 bracket when they are age conscious and with better incomes. Many women have as many as five lip sticks. Eye make-up has been becoming generally used and it is estimated that one in every three women uses hair tints.

The study shows sales of beauty preparations in the post-war period, have grown at a compound annual rate of 9 per cent.

Excluding soaps, cosmetics sales have increased in each of the last twenty five years regardless of war, changing fashions or recessions. Such sales in 1959 were $1.66 billion and 1960 figures are expected to be $1.82 billion or a 9.6 per cent increase.

Hints For Homeowners

BY: JAMES FIZZELL, ASS'T.
FARM ADVISER

After the dark, dreary days this winter, some fresh flowers in the home are a cheery sight. Many of the spring flowers can easily be forced indoors before they bloom naturally outside.

Forsythia, pussywillow, red-bud, and cornelian cherry are some of the earliest blooming of spring shrubs. Since the flower buds are already formed, these branches can be cut and placed in water in the home. In a few days, the buds will swell and burst into bloom.

Remember, if you cut the buds off the shrubs, they will not bloom this year, so cut sparingly. Other spring flowering shrubs than the above can be forced in the home. Experiment with the shrubs in your yard and see which ones can be made to bloom by forcing.

Before spring gets here, trees and fall blooming shrubs should be pruned. Thin out one-fourth of the oldest branches of the shrubs and cut back the remaining branches to a good size shoot or bud. Remove the least desirable of any crossing branches on the trees.

Avoid narrow V-crotches on trees. When one begins to develop cut off one of the branches.

Remove sucker growth on the inner portions of the large branches.

When removing large branches, cut upward (under cut) the branch six inches from the trunk. Then cut downward three inches nearer the trunk. When the branch falls it will not split the trunk. Remove the remaining stub by cutting as close to the tree as possible. Tree wounds always heal from the outside in. Because of this an elliptical, vertical wound will heal faster than a round one. Paint any large wounds with asphalt base tree paint.

An excellent bulletin on pruning trees and shrubs is available free of charge from the Extension Service Office at Cook County Farm Bureau South St. & 66th Court, Tinley Park.

Dean Briggs of Harvard called Boston the town, "Where the Cabots speak only to the Lowells and the Lowells speak only to God."

The Upper Room

READ 1 CORINTHIANS 4: 1-7

What have you that you did not receive? If then you received it, why do you boast as if it were not a gift? (1 Corinthians 4: 7, RV.)

Toscanini was rehearsing Beethoven's Ninth Symphony with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra. He gave his musicians such a new insight into the music that when the rehearsal ended, they rose and applauded him. Desperately, Toscanini tried to arrest their ovation, waving his arms wildly, crying to them to desist.

When there was a lull in the ovation, Toscanini's broken voice could be heard exclaiming - and there were tears in his eyes as he spoke: "It isn't me, men . . . It's Beethoven. Beethoven is everything - Toscanini, nothing."

The great souls of this world are the humble. The rest of us, even the best of us, have our little pride and our not-so-little arrogance. Sometimes when I catch myself in the act of boasting, I think of the Pharisee and the publican. Modesty becomes us, for we have much to be modest about nothing to be puffed up about!

PRAYER: Be patient with us, our Father, as we come humbly into Thy presence.

Dwell in our hearts, helping us to be like Thy Son in thought, attitude, and decision. In His name we make our prayer. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
No garment is more becoming to a child of God than the cloak of humility.

Inventor Blames Woes On Steamboats, Turbulent Wife

BY ROBERTS MANN
CONSERVATION EDITOR
COOK CO. FOREST PRESERVE

The westward migration of the pioneer settlers and the rapid growth of agriculture, commerce and industry in the Middle West is in large part the story of water transportation on our inland waterways. The two main water routes were the chain of Great Lakes on the north and the Ohio River on the south. Sailing vessels carrying hundreds of tons were able to navigate on the Great Lakes almost as freely as on the ocean. Also, on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers heavy loads could be floated downstream from Pittsburgh to New Orleans -- almost 2000 miles. But boats had to be hauled back upstream by manpower -- grueling labor, stretching over weeks or months to move a few tons a few hundred miles. The coming of the steamboat a century and a half ago changed all this.

The steamboat is strictly American. In 1807 Robert Fulton's "Clermont" began to haul passengers and freight on the Hudson River between Albany and New York. Later, he and his associates sent young Nicholas J. Roosevelt to survey the opportunities for steamboats on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. As a result the side-wheeler, "New Orleans", was built at Pittsburgh in 1811. It was 138 feet long and made eight miles per hour downstream. In the autumn of that year during high water it ran the Falls of the Ohio at Louisville, where the river drops 22 feet in two miles, then on to the Mississippi and down to New Orleans.

Beginning in 1815, Captain Henry M. Shreve gave the final proof that the steamboat was the answer to upstream navigation, steaming the 1500 miles from New Orleans to Louisville in 25 days. The same trip downstream was made in seven days. With improvements in the design of large shallow-draft hulls and the adoption of high-pressure engines for both side-wheelers and stern-wheelers -- and the mounting profits from hauling cargo and passengers -- the boom era of the river steamboat was on. For example, freight charges on goods delivered at Cincinnati dropped from eight dollars to one dollar per hundred pounds when brought by steamboat up from New Orleans. By 1830, more than 200 of these boats were churning the Ohio and the Mississippi.

St. Louis became the steamboat capital of the western waters with packets lined up for miles along its levee and the water front a bedlam of noise and activity -- bells ringing, whistles blowing, stoves roaring, rushing bales and barrels over gangways, the clatter of horse-drawn drays, chatter and shouting. Now the steamboats became floating palaces, sometimes 300 feet long and five decks high -- the uppermost was called the texas deck and topped by the glassed-in pilot house. Elaborately painted and decorated with scrollwork, they looked like nothing so much as gigantic wedding cakes. Inside they were no less luxurious with mahogany woodwork, glass chandeliers, mirrored walls and oriental rugs.

The greatest river race of all times, made famous in song and story, was run between the packets "Robert E. Lee" and the "Natchez". The race started at New Orleans on the afternoon of June 30, 1870 and ended July 4th at St. Louis. The Lee won in the record time of 3 days, 18 hours and 13 minutes.

The Sprague, or "Big Mama", largest of all the stern-wheelers, is permanently tied up at Vicksburg as a river museum. A St. Louis schoolyard is the final resting place of the pilot house of the Golden Eagle which plied between there and Peoria for forty years.

The steamboat was invented by John Fitch of Pennsylvania in the late 1780's. He died heartbroken and poverty-stricken. He blamed his troubles on "steamboats and a turbulent wife."

The Old Timer

"All people smile in the same language."

Think Things Crowded? Just Wait Until 1980!

(CNS) You think you live in a big city? You think there are too many cars on the streets? If you do, and most of us do at one time or another, wait until 1980!

"The Chicago metropolitan area should reach a population of 9.5 million persons by 1980," predicts the Chicago Area Transportation Study just released. The study, sponsored by the State of Illinois, Cook County and the city of Chicago in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Commerce, is the second of a three part final report. It is concerned with estimating the amount, kind, and location of travel likely to take place within the Chicago area in 1980.

Twice as many automobile registrations in 1980 should accompany the doubling of the population. The estimated 94 per cent increase predicted in the study will go from 1,462,000 to over 3,000,000 automobiles in 1980. The number of average daily trips, 10,212,398 in 1956 compared to 18,081,000 in 1980 nearly doubles itself. The mileage for automobiles alone would increase from 50,200,000 miles in 1956 to 100,900,000 in 1980. This suggests a doubling of demand for highway travel.

The problem, the study continues, is to anticipate future demands for travel over a sufficiently long time period. The need for precise planning is greater than ever before. New public improvements in transportation, resulting from immediate problems, for example repeated traffic jams, may often be costlier than improvements made on the basis of a long term program.

Chaplin Would Prohibit Use Of Oxidation Ponds

(CNS) - County Commissioner Charles F. Chaplin has launched a fight against the establishment of any more sewage oxidation ponds in unincorporated areas of Cook county.

"They are nothing but open sewers that smell up the neighborhood and are a safety menace," he told the county board Monday.

He called the board's attention to the death of Jeffery Ulmer, 5, of 34 Winchester lane, Schaumburg, who was drowned in such a pond near his north-west suburban home Jan. 26.

On Chaplin's motion, the board deferred action on a petition to rezone 345 acres in south suburban Rich township for the construction of 741 homes.

The 15-million dollar residential development, planned by Pacesetter Homes, Inc., South Holland, would have its sewage treated in an oxidation pond under a permit for one issued on Jan. 26 by the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago.

Engineers describe an oxidation pond as a shallow pool in which sewage is collected and then treated by sunlight.

A constant growth of chlorophyll caused by the sunlight is supposed to prevent odor.

Burton A. Scheidt, chief engineer of the Metropolitan Sanitary District, says: "We are

L-W Can Be Sure Of Tie For Title By Win Tomorrow Night

BY BILL SLUIS
In a tooth-and-nail struggle that took two overtimes to decide, the Lincoln-Way Knights lost their first Southwest Suburban game Friday night. The stumbling block proved to be the Homewood-Flossmoor Vikings, who won 67-65 on a 25-foot jump shot by Dave Maga after 23 seconds of a sudden-death overtime, the second of the evening.

A dispute broke out with four seconds remaining in the first overtime. Ray Brower had been fouled by Lincoln-Way's Jerry Sayers and missed his free throw. The Knights snatched off the rebound and were about to score when the play was halted. The officials, stating that a mistake had been made, awarded Brower a second foul shot, which he missed. Lincoln-Way, however, was deprived of a possible basket on the original play. Such an argument may never be resolved, however. A referee's decision, once made, cannot be changed. Lincoln-Way was left with a Southwest Suburban slate of 11-1, a game ahead of Homewood at 10-2. Two SWS games remain on the card for each team.

The first quarter ended an 18-18 tie. The lead changed hands several times, and H-F tied the game on a last second shot by Ray Brower.

The Vikings took a ten point lead in the second quarter, and nearly had the visitors on the ropes. In scoring flurry paced by Dave Maga's eight points, Homewood captured a 42-32 intermission advantage.

The opposite took place in the third quarter when the Knights rallied to tie the score. Duane Warning scored nine and Skip Kruzich six in bringing about a 52-all tie coming around the third guidpost.

Lincoln-Way continued the scoring splurge at the opening of the fourth period. Six quick points by Al Waldvogel and a bucket by Duane Warning enabled the Knights to take a 60-54 lead after only 2:39 had gone by. But the Vikings caught up, and the lead shifted back and forth several times. With 1:06 to go Duane Warning bagged a 20-footer to give the Knights a 65-64 edge. The game was tied with 0:41 showing, on a free throw by Jim Sullivan, went into an overtime tied 65-all.

The Knights won the tip, but took two shots and missed. When the Vikings took the rebound they proceeded to stall for the entire duration of the period until, with four seconds to go, Ray Brower was fouled by Lincoln-Way's Jerry Sayers. This led to the previously described hassle.

With the game still tied 65-65, the hostilities went into a second overtime. High school rules award the victory to the first team to score two points, so the game was on a "sudden-death" basis.

The Vikings took the tip and brought the ball to their forecourt. They passed and dribbled for 23 brief seconds, when Dave Maga shot the fatal 25-foot jumper from the right of the key. One swish ended the evening's work.

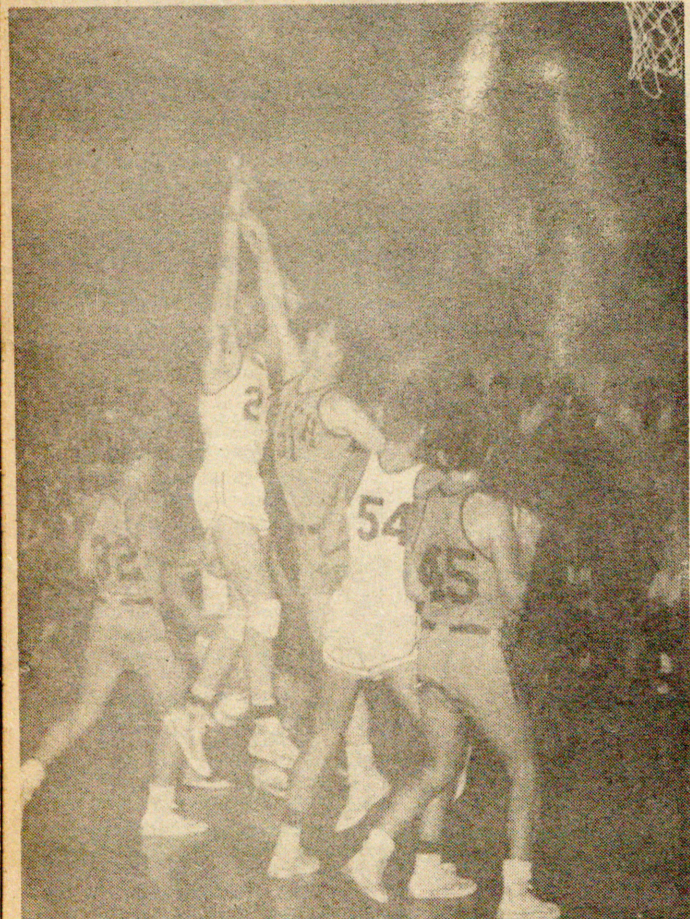

Friday evening the Knights will return home for a battle with the Bremen Braves at the Lincoln-Way gym. A victory here will assure them of at least a tie for the SWS crown. The last game with Bremen was won by L-W by 19 points.

On Tuesday of this week the Knights were scheduled for a battle at Plainfield. This game was too late to get in this week's editions, however.

ZEROED IN and a second later the ball had swished thru the webbing to count another two points for Sandburg in its game with Rich. The shooter is Lance Roberts.

TENSE CROWD witnessed the double-overtime thriller between Lincoln-Way and Homewood-Flossmoor at the latter's gym last Friday. Just how tense is clearly evident in the faces of this segment of fans. The lead changed hands so many times the crowd was more inclined to be bewildered than elated or depressed. After the final gun it was easy to tell the hometown fans by their big smiles.

Pardon Comes Too Late For Rockets, Eagles Win, 54-53

BY DAVE GONZALEZ

In one of the most hotly contested games to date, The Sandburg Eagles dumped the Rich Rockets by a score of 54-53 in the final minutes of play at the Sandburg gym last Friday night.

The game started without much action being furnished by the Rockets in the early stages of the first quarter. Sandburg on the other had scored early in the period and Rich appeared to have considerable trouble in penetrating the Eagles defense and contented themselves with shooting from outside. This didn't accomplish much for them however as all their attempts at distance shots were either short or off the mark. Late in the quarter the Rockets made their first score on a free throw by Aitken. At the close of the period the Eagles led 10-2.

In the second quarter the Rich coach elected to remove the ineffective machine working for him in the previous period and sent in the subs to carry the colors.

This proved to be effective strategy for the Rockets for in the early minutes of the quarter Rich began to shape up pointwise. An Eagle pass interception that was to be the starting phase of the Rocket attack was scooped up by Jim Howard who made the lay-up for the Rich score. The Eagles continued to use the full court press but Rich was getting inside a lot easier in this period.

This quarter turned into a personal point duel between Sandburg's Lance Roberts and the Rockets Neenan. Roberts managed seven markers against the eight netted by Mehan. With the scoreboard reading Sandburg 23 Rich 19, it looked as tho the Rockets were on the comeback trail.

Enthusiastic Sandburg fans cheered the squad on spurred by Ron Lindgrens two baskets laid up in the opening minutes of the quarter. Rich was using the press well in this period until Ted LeVine broke thru scoring three successive baskets giving the Eagles an impressive 40 to 30 lead.

The fourth period however had the Sandburg supporters literally groaning in the aisles.

The Rockets working their patterns well accumulated point after point on a succession of Eagle errors. Meehan made six of his seven attempts in the period. With only 1:16 minutes of play to go in the period, the Rockets added another six points to their tally. The clock showed only 55 seconds remaining when Ron Lindgren sank two three throws from the charity stripe. To ease the tension a little more for the nervous spectators on the Sandburg side of the court, an extra two baskets were contributed by Howard and Beeson respectively.

In the last seconds of the game

Sandburg retained the ball letting the clock run out.

Final score of the game Sandburg 54-Rich 53.

Score by quarters:
1st 2nd 3rd 4th
Sandburg 10 13 17 14
Rich 2 17 11 23

Ron Lindgren was high scorer for the Eagles with 23, followed by Ted LeVines 11.

The Rockets Topmarker with 19 was Meehan seconded by Demmen's total of 13.

Sandburg's next game will be held on their home court against the powerful Homewood Flossmoor Vikings Friday night February 17.

6 Sandburg, 5 L W Matmen Advance To Sectionals

Junior College Survey Group Makes Study Of Communities And People

(Editor's Note: This is another in the series of explanatory articles prepared by the committee in charge of the survey in the southwest suburban area to determine the feasibility of establishing a junior college. Preliminary figures show it would be one of the richest such district's in existence today. This week's article is a quote from one of the members of the population committee, Dr. Lawrence D. Lee, of Markham.)

A vital part of the community junior college survey is the population committee headed by Dr. Martin H. Bartels, director of placements at Northern Illinois university. Under his very capable and enthusiastic direction are ten representatives and alternates from each of the ten school districts making the survey -- Argo, Blue Island, Reavis, Rich, Bremen, Oak Lawn, Carl Sandburg, Evergreen Park, Homewood - Flossmoor, and Lincoln-Way.

By population, it is meant the community and its people. The survey committee proceeds to gather information on the following:

1. The historical background of the community.
2. Economic analysis of the community (basic facts of the economic life of the community as it is now, and will be 20 years hence).
3. Inventory of basic social services (hospitals, churches, recreational facilities, public auditoriums, etc.).
4. Transportation facilities (transportation within the community, to and from the community, type of roads).

5. Description of population (foreign born, white, colored, mobility factors, census reports).

6. Estimated present population, and future population.

7. Direction of population growth (areas where the population is growing, static or decreasing).

8. Child population.

9. School population.

All information regarding population, the community and its people is gathered by the representative or alternate of each district making the survey. One of the first assignments was to obtain fall enrollments by grades and years. At first only public school enrollments were secured, but since many of the districts have an unusually high private school enrollment, these also were secured and considered. All these enrollment figures are put together and certain factors weighed by Dr. Bartels in order that he may give an overall projection as to what student enrollment may be expected for the proposed new junior college.

Information is gathered by the population committee from the superintendents of the schools, the public library local chambers of commerce, city planning commissions and many other reliable sources.

Mrs. Gloria Friedrich, 2901 Spring Road, Oak Lawn, is the chairman of the committee. Other representatives are: Mrs. Margaret Mitterman, 2724 W. 96th Place, Evergreen

Internal Revenue Dept.

Would Speed Tax Refunds

Mortimer M. Caplin, the new U. S. commissioner of internal revenue, announced that tax refunds would be paid out as rapidly as possible to stimulate the nation's economy.

Harold R. All, district director of internal revenue for the Chicago area, announced today that his office is prepared to handle refunds promptly. Mr.
All further stated that in 1961 more than $183,000,000 will be refunded to about 1,600,000 taxpayers in the Chicago district of internal revenue. He said that normally refund returns filed now will be processed and paid in about 5 weeks.

However refunds to approximately 80,000 taxpayers will require an audit before payment and, therefore, cannot be issued within 5 weeks. Taxpayers involved will be notified by mail that their return will be audited.

Returns requiring an audit are those that involve problems such as:

Failure to properly itemize deductions claimed;

Claiming expenditures as deductions which are not allowable; and Questionable or improper exemptions claimed by the taxpayer.

Other common errors that slow down processing and delay refunds are:

Failure to sign return. (Both husband and wife must sign a joint return)

Failure to indicate complete or correct mailing address.

Failure to show wages and withholding tax on the return.

Failure to list dependents on return.

Mr. All stated that accuracy by taxpayers will help them to receive their refunds earlier.

5 From CSHS Take Part

In State Music Activity

Five members of the music department of the Carl Sandburg High School took part in the annual Illinois all-state music activity held at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana, Feb. 2-4. They were among 2,435 junior and senior high school students representing some 300 Illinois communities.

Sandburg seniors sharing the honor were Spencer Lee of the concert band and concert choir members Jan Custer, Jean Pociecha, Rick Smith and Bob Kaiser.

Spencer Lee, 12120 S. 86th Avenue, Palos Park, is concert band percussion section leader, plays the tympani and snare drums, is a member of the pep band, combo groups and the marching band. Spencer was selected to perform with the 259 member senior band at the all-state music activity. For Spencer Lee there was added honor.

New this year at the all-state music activity was a select wind and percussion ensemble of 40-45 persons. Spencer was one of this group. They rehearsed and gave a public performance
Feb. 4.

The largest high school chorus ever assembled at an Illinois all-state music activity was this year's 1,192 voice senior high school chorus which included the four Sandburg Concert Choir people selected to participate.
Jan Custer, of Orland Park,
Rick Smith of Hickory Hills, and Bob Kaiser of Orland Park besides being the Sandburg concert choir are all members of the Tone Poets and Rick and Bob are also members of the Barbershop quartet.

Area School Aid Claims

For Year Total $265,595

Claims for state aid filed by Will county public schools total $2,967,450.02 as certified by George T. Wilkins, state superintendent, for the school year 1960-61.

The amount certified for area schools is in the Lincoln-Way high school district, including the high school, comes to $265,- 595.88.

County Superintendent Verne
E. Crackel explains that under the present law one-half of the amount certified for each district is paid during the period beginning Jan. 1 and ending June 30, 1961. One twelfth of each district claim is paid monthly.
The first payments were received early this month. After July 1 adjustments in claims will be made on the basis of average daily attendance for the six months of highest attendance for the entire 1960-61 school year.

Supt. Crackel goes on to say that the amount appropriated for the common school fund by the 71st general assembly was insufficient to meet the claims in full for the first six months of 1961. The state is short about $5,100,000.

Therefore, Supt. Crackel said, each claim will be prorated at approximately 93,633 of the total amount due. School authorities anticipate that the 72nd (current) general assembly will approve a deficiency appropriation to cover the amount of the deficit in this fund.

Lincoln-Way district based on attendance prior to Nov. 1, 1960:

L W Board Cites Need Of

More Money To Run School

The salary schedule occupied a major portion of the meeting Thursday night when the Lincoln-Way board of education met at the high school.

Further discussion will continue when the salary committee, comprised of board members, meets again with the board.

Another educational tax referendum will be held in the near future. The district held a referendum asking for 16 cents on the assessed $100 valuation but this was defeated.
State law allows a district to ask for 25 cents, which is the maximum. Since Lincoln-Way's salary schedule must be raised to remain competitive with surrounding schools and since an additional 150 students are expected to enroll in September, the school will need more money to operate, A. Hunter Chapman principal said.

A progress report of the junior college committee was given by Lincoln-Way school board representative, Elias Brown.
The organization of the college board members, representatives and other basic structures necessary in order to start a college were outlined.

Another progress report on the board policy manual was heard. The manual is in the process of being revised, and the section currently being worked on outlines the duties of the administrative personnel and the teachers. The manual specifies duties and responsibilities, sick leave plan, retirement and insurance.

Invoices were reviewed by the board and other routine business was completed.

The Lay Citizens' committee will meet Thursday, Feb. 16, at 8 p.m. at Lincoln-Way. This will include the general advisory committee as well as finance, publicity, curriculum and building.

It's a legal holiday in Arizona on February 14, a day known as Admission Day.
That's the day when the late President William H. Taft signed the proclamation admitting Arizona as a state.

Park, piano accompanist for the concert choir, attended the music activity as a spectator.
Milton L. Potter, band teacher and director at Sandburg, accompanied the group and was among the many teachers who attended the annual Illinois Music Educators Association meeting held in conjunction with the All-State Music Activity.
Mrs. Mary E. Pettyjohn, choral teacher and director at Sandburg, was unable to attend the festivities. Mrs. Pettyjohn joined the Sandburg faculty several years ago

Tasty lenten meals are rather simple when one shops the food stores with non-meat foods in mind. Market buyers have put a lot of thought to this annual problem. If you scan the ads in this newspaper you will find they have come pretty close to a solution.

The many, many lenten meals that are possible from canned, frozen and packaged non-meat meals permit a non-tiring menu change for every day in the week. Of course, sea foods are plentiful and there is a variety to meet every Taste. Before you go to your favorite store, shop the money-saving food ads in this paper. It will save you time and money. Moving Day

Eric Schmidt Family Tackles A Job Every Newcomer Must Do

Everyone looks forward to living in a new home, but the work of moving there is not much fun. Two weeks ago the Eric Schmidt family prepared to take up residence in their new Fairway Estates home at 9309 W. 145th St.

The day was cold and a deep snow had just fallen. They all got up early and loaded the two cars. By one the next morning they were in.

They are still getting situated, the telephone is to be installed soon and the yard and landscaping is still waiting for spring.

Eric Sr. is working as usual and it is now up to Ann, and the kids to complete the major part of the move in, during the day-light hours.

The Schmidts have done their share of moving in the last few years. Eric and Ann were natives of Bremen, Germany and with the help of some GI friends managed to make their way into the United States. A brief 2 1/2 year stop in Canada helped put the financial boat into shape and then Eric began his job with a hydraulic lift equipment firm in Port Washington, N. Y.

SUPERVISOR--Young Eric takes over as superintendent of the installation of a mirror on the bedroom dressing table. (Golden Triangle Photo)

A few years later Schmidt was appointed 13 state regional sales manager for his firm, Stokvis Multiton Corp. He uses the family station wagon to haul his demonstrator around the midwest.

Now the family is thoroughly Americanized. Mom and dad are taking out citizenship papers. Heike 11, is in 5th grade at Orland Central Grade School and 4 year old Eric Jr. is finding a whole crew of new playmates.

The Schmidts are hard-working folks, and most typical of the high quality people that were new to this country for a while and have become first-class citizens. We're proud to welcome them.

DELICATE WORK -- Mrs. Schmidt, as with all wives, entrusts the unpacking of her dishes to no one. She carefully unwraps it here in her new kitchen. Golden Triangle Photo

WHEW -- The packed boxes begin to pile up as Schmidt continues to carry them in and place them in the various rooms where they will be used. Golden Triangle Photo

Our Cover

The gentleman on our cover is caught in a position familiar to us all at one time or the other. He is moving into a new home. Eric Schmidt is the head of one of the first families to move into the the new Fairway Estates. The Schmidts moved into their new home just two weeks ago during the recent snow storm and cold spell that made the job even harder. But now they're all set and are looking forward to living in their new Orland Park home.

With the aid and advice of Dr. Boozer, the Bursons raised the double litter, the equivalent of twins in a human family. Mrs. Dorothy Barbee (left) and young Bob Burson hold their two parents. A "HAMMY" FAMILY -- Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Talbott are amateur radio ("Ham") operators. Susan 16, and David 15, both attending Carl Sandburg High are also avid fans. The Talbotts live at 15145 Hiawatha Trail in Orland Park Hills. They came here from Hawaii in November when his firm, Aeronautical Radio, Inc. of Chicago, transferred him. Esther Talbott is also a busy member of The Young Ladies Radio League of Chicago Golden Triangle Photo

TIGHT SQUEEZE -- This group of newcomers has a weekly problem: how to squeeze two Great Danes and an Alaskan Malamute into the back seat of one car. Mrs. Chas. Broderick, (R) a Lockport newcomer whose Malamute, Jo-Jo joined her family this fall and Mrs. Joseph Dominick, who recently moved into Kelvin Grove, Lockport with two Great Dane pups, Happy and Tyrus, are all attending a school for training dogs, sponsored by the Stone City Kennel Club. To get them there is a good-sized job, as the three dogs take up quite a bit of space. Everyone is very friendly however, and after a little coaxing it usually works out very well. Golden Triangle Photo

FAVORITE SPORT--1st Lt. John Mulvenna enjoys hunting, fishing and bowling as a major source of recreation while he is off duty. Mulvenna and his wife are newcomers to the New Lenox area. Before moving into their home the army required that Mulvenna prove he could get from home to the Nike base in Orland Park within 10 minutes as he must be available quickly in emergency situations.
(Golden Triangle Photo)

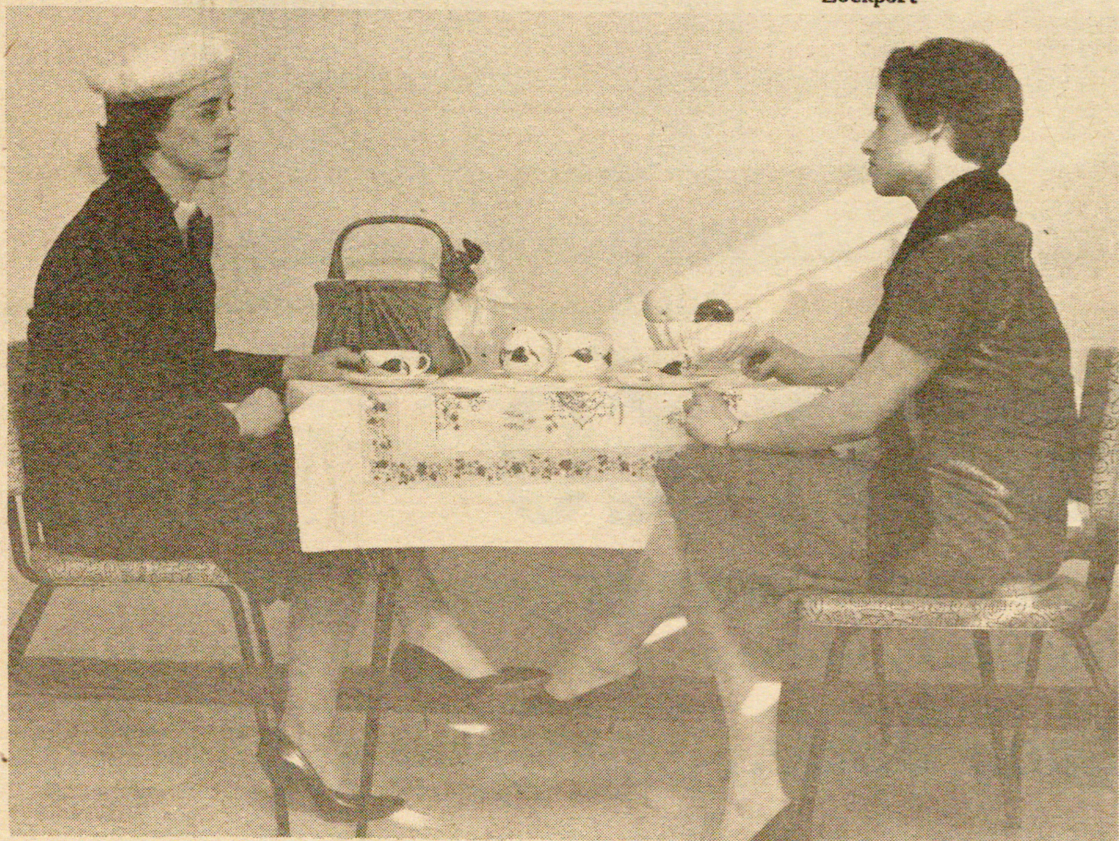

STUDIES INDIANS--Richard Kristenek is new in our country, but he is already eagerly planning to become an Indian agent and work for their welfare. Although he and his family are newcomers to Orland Park Hills the countryside reminds them of their native Czechoslovakia. Wilford, who was born in the U. S. also is proud of his brother's collection. Other members of the family are a Parakeet named Glad, Suzy the cat and a turtle who doesn't like to be disturbed.

COFFEE TIME -- Mrs. Evelyn Mulvenna of New Lenox stops to visit with Welcom Wagon Hostess Mrs. Ruth Krohn. Mr. and Mrs. Mulvenna recently moved into their home at New Lenox when John was transferred from Ft. Bragg, N. C. to the Nike unit at Orland Park.

BECOMING NEW CITIZENS--The family of Mr. and Mrs. Zdenek Kristenek formerly of Czecho-Slovakia has been in the USA six years and all but Wilford 5, are studying to become naturalized citizens. Here Mrs. Vera Kristenek, Richard 10 and Wilford 5 say hello to the Orland Park Welcome Wagon Lady, Mrs. Ann Wennerberg. Mr. Kristenek is presently working as a veterinarian in Chicago while Helen, 8 and Richard attend Central School at Orland Park. Both husband and wife speak four languages and are eagerly taking an interest in community affairs. However they are still working to improve their English.

A Quick Look Back...

A Long, Long Look Forward

Ahead of us is a new year filled with promises of growth in man's many fields of endeavor . . . not only throughout the world and our nation, but here within our own community.

The history of our community is one of continued advances . . . progress made possible by all our citizens working together to make our hometown a happy, prosperous place today — and tomorrow!

Today, as in our pioneer past, progress is made by men who refuse to be satisfied with the achievements, however many, of bygone years. So in 1961, with our eyes on the far horizon, let us continue moving forward until we've met our many challenges.

Tinley Welcomes New Corporation

Panduit Corporation is a relatively young manufacturing organization, established approximately seven years ago.

They are primarily engaged in the manufacture of plastic electronic and electrical control components. Panduit products are sold nation-wide and are incorporated in military equipment, computers and industrial control equipment.

Panduit Corporation was started in Chicago and subsequently moved to Midlothian. The need for additional space necessitated the selection of a new location approximately one year ago. After a thorough analysis of available locations, Tinley Park was selected as the ideal site for the new home of Panduit Corporation.

Many factors were responsible for the choice of Tinley Park, however, one of the most important factors was the progressive attitude of the Tinley Park community in recognizing that local industry is an asset to the community when handled properly. When intelligent and fair restrictions are imposed on local industry, such as those enacted by Tinley Park, detrimental effects are eliminated. When a cooperative attitude prevails between all elements of a community, there will be healthy and mutually profitable community growth.

Retired Ladies Pleased With Life In Tinley Park

BY ANNE RODGER

Three retired telephone operators who moved from a changing neighborhood on the south side of Chicago last October, like the small town atmosphere of Tinley Park and have suffered no pangs of homesickness since their arrival. They are Miss Anna Laidlaw; her sister, Mrs. Daisy Barker; and their friend for 40 years; Miss Lillian Jensen; all who live at 17302 - 70th ave.

The three have an aggregate of 109 years employment with the Illinois Bell Telephone Company. Miss Laidlaw, who was a chief operator, has the longest service.

HOBBYIST—Miss Anna Laidlaw of Tinley Park refinishes furniture as a hobby. Here she stands beside a beautiful example of her work. (Golden Triangle Photo)

RETIRE TOGETHER--These three Tinley Park women decided to live together upon retiring from their work with Bell Telephone. They chose to move into a new home in Tinley this fall and are thoroughly enjoying their role as newcomers. From left they are: Miss Lillian Jensen, Mrs. Daisy Barker and Miss Anna Laidlaw. (Golden Triangle Photo)

She retired at 65 with 41 years' service. Mrs. Barker and Miss Jensen, who were supervisors, have 35 and 33 years' service respectively.

One never really retires from Illinois Bell. There is always close contact with other retired employees thru the Pioneer club, which holds luncheon meetings every other month. The ladies belong to the south side council of the club, having worked in several Chicago south side branches.

In connection with the Pioneers is a birthday club which meets monthly to honor all who have birthdays in that month. There is also a cancer dressing group in which they are active.

Illinois Bell also offers other services to their employees after their retirement on pension at the age of 65.

The three ladies, who formerly attended the Brainerd Methodist church in Chicago, where Miss Laidlaw and her sister lived for 32 years, are now attending the local Methodist church.

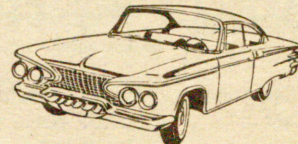

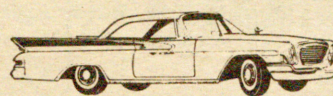

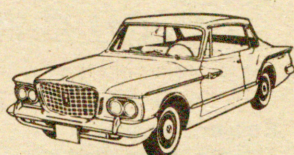

Since they do not have a car, they find the location of their home very accessible to the church and stores.

Their days are brightened by visits from Mrs. Baker's granddaughter, Mrs. Barbara McVay and her children, who live in Tinley Park and who was instrumental in their choice of location when they decided to move. Barbara is very helpful in taking them on shopping trips and on other errands.

Besides Barbara, Mrs. Barker, who has two sons, also has four other grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

New Lenox Newcomer Is Helicopter Pilot

After a helicopter pilot flies around all day where does he land? This may be a question that hasn't bothered you much but it's pertinent in the case of a pair of New Lenox newcomers, Mr. and Mrs. Richard McCrary of Pioneer Dr. in Lincoln Wood.

Dick McCrary is a pilot with Helicopter Airways Inc. and works out of Midway airport. They arrived in New Lenox in November of 1960 and chose their new home site carefully.

At present they have a beautiful house trailer on their home site and after their new house is completed they'll move in and sell the trailer. In the meantime, they have comfortable living quarters for themselves and Tippy, their copter-loving Manchester terrier.

Tippy has been up with Dick a few times and greatly enjoys looking out the open doors of the helicopter at her friends below. Mrs. McCrary is also a flying enthusiast and is presently taking flying lessons on her own.

McCrary learned to fly helicopters during a tour of duty in the National Guard in 1955 and '56. After discharge he went to work in his home town of Omaha, Neb., as an electrician. Still a national guard reservist he continued his flying and progressed so well he was offered a job teaching National Guard pilots to fly at Ft. Sill, Okla. Completing this job in 1959 he accepted a position as a copter pilot for Helicopter Airways Inc. of Chicago. The McCrarys lived in Chicago six months until they found their present home site.

By FAA regulations he is not allowed to fly more than 85 hours a month and therefore he expects to have quite a bit of time to work on building his new home. They have the necessary contracting work ready to begin construction of their new ranch-style home this spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard McCrary
